GOOD OLD TIMES.

I do respect the times of old, the times of beans and pork,
When our old clever, honest Dads, went whistling to their work;

When old cock'd hats and breeches were the fashion of the day,
And good thick-bottom'd shoes were worn, with buckles shining gay!

Good home-spun stuff—and kept their muffs and tippets evermore!

When good stout waists were all the rage and cheeks ne'er painted were,
And borrow'd curls ne'er need the girls with beauty debonair!

The merry hearth, where boisterous mirth and apples did abound—

The good old times, when our Dads were fat and hearty too,
With hair comb'd back most gracefully, and done up in a queue—

I do respect those golden days, when fashion was inclin'd
To make her votaries wear their coats with pocket holes behind!

Alas! they've pass'd with time away—those halcyon days are o'er,

The women, too, take up their cue, and wear their chains of gold—

THE DOUBLE RESCUE;

—OR,—

THE STRENGTH OF LOVE.

"A dreadful night—O, a dreadful night!" murmured the young wife with a shudder, as screening the pane with her hand from the bright firelight, she attempted, but in vain, to penetrate the storm and darkness without. "God grant he may be near," and with this heart felt petition she turned from the window, seated herself, and took up her knitting.

Cheerful, homelike was the aspect of that humble apartment. Near the fire, whose brisk blaze filled the room with a ruddy glow, and streamed far up the wide chimney, sang the waiting tea kettle; while a neatly spread supper table occupied the centre of the floor, which was scoured almost to snowy whiteness.

The face of the only inmate of the dwelling, the female above mentioned, wore an anxious, troubled expression. Ever and anon, the rude blast rattled the latch on the outer door, she paused in her work, and raised her eyes full of hope and expectancy, then, when only the groaning of the neighboring forest trees met her listening ear, sighed, and again strove, by attention to her employment, to confine her thoughts, and calm her apprehensions.

Slowly and distinctly the tall clock at the back part of the room, told the hour of eight. The young woman put aside her task, and once more went to the window. The tempest had not in the least abated, but raged with the fury of a thousand uncaged lions, and seemed still increasing. Fearful indeed was that evening's elemental warfare, over that bleak Canadian plain!

"Yet he comes not—my husband. Merciful Heaven be-friend us!" Tears gathered in the eyes of the gentle, devoted wife, and fell like rain upon her agitated bosom. For some moments she stood indulging their flow, until her heart, like a lightened ship, rose to its wonted place upon the billows which had threatened to overwhelm it.

Hope repeated her whisperings; and, in imagination, the young wife beheld the sturdy form of her beloved, nobly breasting the storm, and step by step nearing his home in safety. Already she seemed pouring for him the fragrant, steaming beverage, and listening to his expressions of thankfulness for surrounding blessings.

She turned to the table, cut another slice from a loaf of inviting appearance, and laid it upon the already laden plate. After replenishing the fire, she resumed her seat before it, and gazed into the writhing flames, that hastily embraced the fresh fuel, and with a serpent-like hiss swallowed the snow-flakes, as they dropped into its red, open jaws.

The minute hand of the clock had traversed half the distance around the dial plate. The evening was fast waning, but the absent one was absent still. About noon of that day he had left home, on foot, intending to transact business in a village five miles distant, and return by nightfall.

At that time no signs of an immediate storm were apparent, but as the day drew near its close, the clouds began to gather thick and heavy, and the snow to fall in huge, feathery flakes. Faster and faster it descended, till all the air seemed filled by one mighty avalanche. Three hours had passed, and the storm-god in all his terrible fury was yet abroad.

At length, calmness could be maintained by the waiting wife no longer. Hope and trust faltered, died within her bosom. Starting from her chair, she paced the floor, wringing her hands in agony, though her eyes were tearless, and her pale lips mute as if sealed in death.

Vainly did she endeavor to persuade herself into the belief, that the fierceness of the storm had prevented her husband from leaving the village—she could not be deceived. He would never voluntarily abandon her thus to loneliness and awful uncertainty—no; the assurance was all too undoubted, that the cold and the tempest had overpowered him on his way, and he had sunk amid the drifting snows to perish.

No wonder that her cheek blanched to marble hue, and her eyes grew wild with terror!

Suddenly she pauses, while every feature speaks desperate resolve. See, she hurriedly envelopes herself in

To Delinquents!---Pay up.

All those indebted for the Globe, advertising and job work, are requested to settle their accounts at the earliest moment convenient—at least between this time and the first day of April, 1857. This notice is particularly intended for those whose accounts have been standing for two years and upwards.—There are few, if any of these, who could not pay their accounts at a moment's notice, without any difficulty; and we hope they will not wait for another asking. We, as a general thing, are not in the habit of dunning, but justice to others requires this to be done.—We pay cash regularly to our operators, as well as for type, paper, ink, and so on, and cannot recognize as friends, those persons who are so negligent as to leave their accounts run for several years, when they are abundantly able to pay. We like to do business in a business way, and hope to be seconded by our friends.

APPOINTMENT BY POST MASTER GENERAL.—Samuel Brooks to be Postmaster at Coalmont, vice Dr. Moore, resigned. An excellent appointment.

☞The Baltimore Patriot says: "this city, as is well known, is infested by bands of burglars, pickpockets, and workers under the new principle styled 'garroting.'"

Pennsylvania Legislature.

The Legislature is overrun with applications for new Banks, and the Free Banking project is again advocated by opposition members. The Senate have finally agreed to meet the House in Convention, on the 17th of March, for the purpose of electing a State Treasurer. The bill for the sale of the public works, has not yet been acted upon.

☞A resolution has passed the Pennsylvania House of Representatives, authorizing the Committee of Ways and Means to examine into the propriety of, and if they deem it expedient, insert an appropriation of $10,000 in the appropriation bill, for the erection of an Executive Mansion on the public grounds in the borough of Harrisburg.

☞The salary of the Governor of this great State is $3,500 a year—just about a good salary for a good clerk holding a responsible position. If a Governor lives as he should live, and extends the hospitality to the people visiting the seat of government he should and is expected to do, he will come out of the office poorer than when he went in. Five thousand a year would be little enough.

☞A resolution has been read in the House, for the temporary adjournment of the Legislature, from the 27th inst., to the 9th of March, for the purpose of giving members an opportunity to attend the State Convention, and the inauguration of James Buchanan.

In less than a month, the Democratic candidate for Governor, will be known to all.—Who the lucky man will be, we have no opportunity of knowing. Several good men are named—with either of them, we intend to go into the fight with a determination to come out with nothing less than a victory in "old Huntingdon."

APPOINTED.—Col. John P. Hoover, of Venango, has been appointed Supervisor to fill the vacancy occasioned by the death of John Gadd, Esq. Gen. R. C. McGill and Mr. David Black of this place, were applicants for the office. Better men cannot be found in the State.

☞GIDEON ELIAS, Esq., of Tod township, we learn will soon start for Kansas, where he intends to locate as a Land Agent. F. H. LANE, Esq., of this place, will be associated with him, and will give at any time all information desired by persons wishing to purchase lands in Kansas. Mr. E. is known to be a safe gentleman, and his capacity for selecting the best lands for those who may authorize him to do so, will not be questioned. He will leave in March, and those who wish to invest their money in that Territory should see him before he leaves.

NEW STORES.—We learn that Mr. W. J. GISINGER, of Marklesburg, will commence business about the first of April, in West Huntingdon, at the old stand formerly occupied by Harrison & Couch, near the old Juniata bridge. Mr. G. is a clever fellow, and we ask for him a good run of patronage.

Mr. MOSES STROUS, (every body knows "Old Mose") has got his new building under roof. It will be finished and occupied by "Old Mose" about the first of April. It is in the Square.

Mr. D. P. GWIN has been fixing up the old stand of Col. Gwin, in a very handsome manner. It will be the handsomest store room in town, and will be occupied by Mr. G. as soon as he receives his new spring goods and completes some other very important arrangements.

DEATH OF E. A. PENNIMAN.—Col. E. A. Penniman, formerly a member of the Legislature from Philadelphia, died in that city, on Monday 9th inst., of cancer. He was forty-seven years of age.

Something for the Thoughtful.

One of the most unpleasant features in the profession of a journalist is the task of pointing out evils which exist in the community in which he lives—yet this is among his duties as a citizen, and cannot at all times be avoided. Such being the case, we trust to be excused for plainness of speech, on the score of good intention.

To the observer of what is going on upon the surface of our Huntingdon society, it must be apparent that immorality is upon the increase. Rowdyism stalks undisguised in our midst. Street-fights, and drunken men reeling to and fro, are no uncommon spectacles. Violent language and ribald songs "vex the drowsy ear of night."

All this seems a strange contradiction to reflecting persons, while the churches are weekly adding to their numbers by the score. But so it is; we cannot escape the painful evidences which present themselves before our eyes, and those of our wives and children, day by day. If something effectual is not done to check the rising tide of dissipation and sin, Huntingdon may yet stand alongside of the boroughs of Blair county in the calendar of crime. This is not said as a joke. We earnestly deprecate arriving at that issue.

Within the past week, the peaceful dwellers on our street have been awakened at "the dead and witching hour of night" by a volume of blasphemous oaths, followed by an obscene chorus and exclamations too foul to be heard in a christian land. On Friday evening in particular, Satan seemed to be unchained. There was a protracted and brutal fight in a public place, and a crowd to witness it. At a later hour, returning from a neighbor's house, we stumbled over something rolled like a log across the side-walk. On stopping to examine, it proved to be an insensate drunkard, who had reeled to that spot after a row, in which his body had received several hacks and bruises.

Now, we put it to the sober judgment of our citizens—

> "Shall such things be,
> And overcome us like a summer cloud,
> And not excite our special wonder?"

There are hundreds of children whose tender minds are hourly in danger of being corrupted by these scenes of shame and outbreaking wickedness; who are learning from the coarse lips of reprobates, the language of infamy. And shall we loiter without seeking a remedy, until the moral poison becomes ingrained in each young brain and heart?

And now comes up the pregnant inquiry, who is to blame? Where do minors and habitual drunkards get the whiskey? Are officers negligent in the performance of their duty? If so, have they been properly sustained by well-meaning citizens? When a rowdy is arrested, is not bail too readily forthcoming? In short, has not the arm of the law been paralyzed by the injudicious course of those very men who are loudest in their complaints against the authorities?

We submit these queries to the tribunal of the people; and in common with many others interested in the restoration of perfect order, we hope for a prudent consideration of these matters at the coming Spring election.

ATTEMPT TO STAB.—Benj. Fockler was severely cut in several places, with a knife in the hands of an Irishman, on Friday night last, in front of the Franklin House. The Irishman was a wicked devil, and determined on cutting somebody because nobody would harbor him. Ben. tried to drive him from the house, and in a scuffle got several severe stabs, none of which, however, with care, will prove mortal. The wounds were promptly dressed by Dr. LUDEN, and the victim is doing well. The Irishman immediately took to his heels, and has not been arrested.

☞The cause of Christianity is said to be in a very progressive state in the Fegee Islands, and the efforts of the missionaries are attended with the greatest success. Late advices from there report that at the present time there are over 30,000 of the natives under the teachings of Christianity.

There were Giants.

If any of our readers have had doubts as to the existence of giants in former times, let them read the following, and believe:

"A correspondent of the National (Ill.) Emporium writing from Cleves, Ohio, says:—A few days ago, while Wat Eckman and Mike Shots were digging a well for James Malson, Esq., near North Bend, Ohio, the skeleton of a man, or rather of a giant, was found, twenty-nine feet below the surface of the earth—who, when living, towered to the enormous height of twenty-three feet and ten inches.

Prof. Lind, who examined the skeleton, says:

"The os-humerous of the skeleton measured six feet four and a half inches, and the superior condyle, where it enters the glenoid cavity of the scapula, measured eighteen and three-eights inches in diameter." Hence, says the Doctor, "admitting the proposition demonstrated by comparative anatomy, that all muscular power depends on the magnitude of the articulating condyles of the limbs to which they are attached, we must arrive at the startling fact, that this monster man while in the full vigor of life, was twenty-three feet and ten inches high, and was capable of wielding the forearm with sufficient force to have thrown a cannon ball weighing 18 lbs. from Cincinnati to Indianapolis, or a distance of 88 miles, or to have taken a large millstone in each hand, and walked with perfect ease at the astounding rate of thirty seven and one-eighth miles an hour."

Whar's Samson and Goliah of Gath now?

☞J. Kennedy Morehead, of Allegheny, has been named by the opposition, as their candidate for Governor. Wilmot is most prominent among the Black Republican faction of the opposition.

We take the following sensible remarks on this subject from the Richmond Enquirer, which goes to show the feelings of the Democracy both North and South:

"It is unquestionably true that the President elect ought to come into office absolutely untrammeled by party dictation, either North and South; and we shall be the last to infringe in any wise upon his just and clear prerogative. He has been declared to be the President of the whole country, and doubtless, he will enter in good faith upon the discharge of the duties of his position, with a wise regard to the welfare of the whole country.

For ourselves, we should prefer that, in the selection of the Heads of Department, the President shall be let alone to select his own men. As he will be held responsible for the conduct of the administration, into whose hands soever the chief and subordinate offices may fall, it is but just that in the choice of workmen he should be without trammel or hindrance.

Of course we all have our preferences, and, in most cases, we dare say these preferences are based upon an accurate knowledge of the men, and proper confidence in the fact, that they will carry out the measures which the election of Mr. Buchanan was designed to secure. But it will require no extraordinary charity to believe that others too, are equally trustworthy, and equally competent with our own, and will do as much to advance the true welfare of the country, by fearlessly adhering to the wise and wholesome features of public policy, the triumph of which was secured by the recent election. And whether Mr. Buchanan shall choose his colaborers from the North or the South, from Virginia or New York, is and ought to be a matter of small concern, if he shall choose wise, worthy and faithful men. He will do this, let croakers say what they may. If no higher motive prompted it, a polite regard for the success of his administration will ensure such a course. We have no fears, then, that the chief offices will fall into the hands of unworthy men, or that we shall have any need for crimination or complaint when the names of the chosen ones are announced.

We have again and again set forth in substance what we now say, and are determined, let the President do as he may in the selection of a Cabinet, to defend whatever of wisdom there shall be found in his policy at home or abroad. Were Mr. Buchanan an unknown man, there might possibly be some occasion for anxiety as to his men and measures; but with a veteran officer, so able and so distinguished, at the helm, who can doubt, that even in this present crisis, he will guide us safely and surely through the perils that may encompass our course?"

Upon the same subject the Philadelphia Evening Argus remarks:

"Nearly every paper we take up, it matters not how obscure, has some one to recommend to the President elect as a proper person to fill a position in his Cabinet. Some go so far as to intimate that the country will not be safe unless their favorite is chosen. This is all folly, let the President be free to make his own selections, he alone is responsible for the success or failure of his administration. We have our preferences. There are men whom we admire and think would adorn Cabinet positions, and whose services would be a great benefit and redound to the honor of the country; but we yield to the superior judgment of the President elect, knowing that the responsibility of selecting proper advisers rests alone with him, and believing he will do all for the best. We have ever supported Democratic principles and defended all the administrations of our party, both State and National, because our heart and judgment prompted us to do so, and it matters not who James Buchanan selects for his Cabinet, his past course justifies us in saying we shall heartily sustain his administration."

THE MURDER OF DR. BURDELL—CORONER'S VERDICT.—The Coroner's investigation in this appalling tragedy came to a close on Saturday night, at 11 o'clock. Snodgrass was identified by two women as the person who had purchased a dagger on Tuesday or Wednesday preceding the murder. On being re-examined, he positively denied the charge. The Coroner, after delivering his charge to the jury, said that he would examine another witness who had just arrived, after which the investigation was brought to a conclusion. The Coroner then introduced D. C. Walter, who, being affirmed, said:—

I live at No. 90 Horatio street; I was passing along Bond Street, on the night of Friday, the 30th of January last, at about a quarter before eleven o'clock; I saw a man sitting on the steps of this house, No. 31; he was apparently at work at his shoes.

While he was thus engaged, I saw the door of the house opened—a man put his head out, and said to the person sitting on the steps "What are you doing there?" I saw the man who was sitting on the step leave it. I noticed this fact and went on.

The Jury then retired to consider the verdict.

THE VERDICT.

NEW YORK, 11 o'clock, P. M.—The Coroner's Jury have just come in. They find as follows:—

First—That the deceased, Dr. Harvey Burdell, was found dead at his house, No. 31 Bond street, on the morning of the 31st of January, 1857.

Second—That his death was caused, on the night of January 30th, by numerous wounds from some sharp instrument.

Third—That the Jury find that Dr. Harvey Burdell was murdered by Mrs. Augusta Cunningham and John J. Eckel, as principals.

Fourth—That George Vail Snodgrass was accessary before the fact.

Fifth—That Miss Augusta Cunningham and Miss Helen Cunningham are persons having a knowledge of the facts, and concealing their knowledge of them.

GIRLS AND BEARDS.—Two young misses, discussing the qualities of some young gentlemen, were overheard thus.

No. 1—"Well, I like Billy, but he's rather girlish; he hasn't got the least bit of a beard."

No. "I say Billy has got a beard, but he shaves it off."

No. 1—No he aint either, any more than I have."

No. 2—I say he has too, and I know it, for it sticks my cheek."

From the Daily Argus.

The Woolly Heads.

Black Republicanism has had its day, like the dog spoken of in Shakspeare. But this was a mad dog; and, although it was stoned and fired upon without mercy, yet we did not succeed in killing it before a great many others were bitten, and the virus became disseminated in many populous districts of the country. The Beechers, the Parkers, the Reverend gentleman in Boston, (we forget his name,) who ran away with his neighbor's wife; and philosopher Greeley, are all rabid. And, what is most extraordinary, this peculiar species of negrophobia exhibits among its prominent developments a most libidinous infatuation. All the Free-love disciples, male and female, are Abolitionists. The Reverend gentleman, now occupying the attention of the Boston press, and who, making a temporary lecturing excursion of profit and pleasure, and leaving his wife and children at home, was accompanied by the wife of his neighbor, something younger and handsomer than his own, is a decided Fremont Black Republican Abolitionist. He was one of the rabid preachers who made political diatribes in the pulpit, having displayed on the wall behind him a map of the United States, with all the Southern members of the Confederacy blotted out with ink, while Kansas was strongly incarnadined. In every instance, the three thousand political parsons, when holding forth to their Black Republican congregations, had a certain number of women clustering around the pulpit, who smiled and encouraged them, and who seemed to say, "when we obtain our rights, we'll play the deuce with the laws, and put an end to the reign of the mulatto wenches!" And why should they not be there as well as in the upper tiers of the theatre? They had the sanction of the preachers for what they did, or whatever they had an inclination to do; and if their spiritual teachers were capable of leading them into out-of-the way places, how could they do otherwise than follow? Perhaps the monomanical political economists may be an exception to the rule. The fact of propagation would be too consistent a demonstration for the establishment of their characteristic decrepitudes.

But rabid Black Rehublicanism has other symptomatic atrocities. It has an aversion for Constitutions, as the mad dog has for water, and is pre-disposed to rend the Union in fragments. We never could conceive how some of our wealthiest citizens, who love their money bags, could manifest any sympathy for such a crazy, desperate and dangerous faction of malignants. The triumph of such a party would afford the same security, as turning loose in our streets some 7,000 mad dogs—that being the Fremont vote of the city. The Constitution of the United States once violated—and that was precisely the purpose of the Fremont party, if we are to credit the opinion of the Supreme Judges, whose province it is to decide what is constitutional—of course every subordinate legal restraint would instantly cease to exist. Then what would become of the money bags of the hundred millionaires who united in the invitation to Mr. Speaker Banks to address them on the Free Soil hydrophobic paroxisms of Fremontism. How much in the dollar would their railroad securities bring? Or their bank stocks, their scrip, their "paper" discounted at one per cent per month? Or on the estimate value of their real estate? If they assist in unchaining the devil, they must be prepared to entertain his majesty. And we have the best authority for knowing that he has use for an unlimited amount of wealth, power and dominion. To be able to tempt the many, he would be under the necessity of levying on the resources of the few. And it might not be difficult for him to persuade a multitude of poor men, that their condition would be improved by pillaging a few scores of millionaires.

This would be contrary to law. But all laws are subordinate to, and based upon the Constitution, which these millionaires were persuaded to destroy. Having escaped this woolly headed danger, they should study the French Revolution. Or if they are determined to persist in the temararious experiment of the few against the many, the rich against the poor, usurpation against the Constitution, of course the devil himself could have no motive for arresting them on their journey to destruction. They have escaped once; and we doubt if they will be impatient to plunge into new perils. They have reason to thank Heaven and the Democracy that the Constitution has withstood the metal of their batteries, else ere this the devil would have had them all. Surely they could not have been aware that the funds they contributed were to be expended in the purchase of ammunition to blow open their own vaults, and shatter the walls of their own mansions. Nothing but a profuse expenditure of their money could have kept so many Free Soil papers in motion in a city numbering only 7000 Black Republican voters against 63,000 Constitutionalists. And do they not still give aid and comfort to the enemy?

The Democracy of the South, as well as the North, merely contend that the territories belong to all the States in common.—They insist on the exercise of their constitutional right to remove into them with their families and their property. They care not how many Northern emigrants become their neighbors, nor what description of property they bring with them, so they do not steal their negroes. But the rabid Emigrant Aid Greeleyites, declare that the territories belong to "freedom," and the slave owner must be utterly excluded. They say, moreover, that it is degrading to white labor to permit negroes to work in an adjoining field. A strange doctrine for Abolitionists, the frantic advocates of human equality, without regard to color! If the negroes were all emancipated, and sent to the North, what would become of them if not allowed to labor in the vicinity of white philanthropists? It is madness—it is woolly-headed madness!

Erie City Bank.

This bank, as every body knows, is now in a state of suspension—that is, it is closed for the present against all demands. We presume, that every thing tending to throw light upon its condition will be interesting to those who are so unfortunate as to have their pockets full of its notes. A communication in the last Erie Observer, gives the following information: The stockholders met on the 4th inst. and to them the committee made an interesting report, from which it appears that the assets are $387,934 29, and its liabilities $294,586 83; leaving a balance in favor of the bank of $93,347 46. This looks pretty well on paper, but truth compels us to say that implicit confidence cannot be placed in such reports. Not long since the Lancaster Bank made a pretty fair statement and intimated that business would be resumed—but it has recently made an assignment—so that bubble has burst. The Erie Bank may do the same, and we shall therefore only state facts, without offering advice, to note holders. Since the suspension—so says the report—"the debt of the bank to bill holders has been reduced $105,380 by the receipt of its own notes on debts due the bank," and the stockholders have "instructed the directors to collect the amount outstanding on the stock, amounting to $50,-000." The correspondent of the Observer thinks that by adopting a course of forbearance, and allowing the board to conduct their affairs in their own way, none can be injured and many may be benefitted. This may or may not be so. In our opinion the wisest course for the note holders to pursue is to turn their paper into money as soon as they can.—Harrisburg Patriot & Union.

STATE LUNATIC ASYLUM.

Report of Superintendent.

To the Trustees of the Pennsylvania State Lunatic Hospital:

GENTLEMEN:—In obedience to the requirement of the by-laws, the sixth annual report of the operations of the Hospital is herewith respectfully presented.

The number of patients in the Hospital on the 31st of December, 1855, was two hundred and fifty—one hundred and thirty-eight males, and one hundred and twelve females.

The number admitted during the year, was one hundred and twenty-nine—seventy-four males and fifty-five females; so that the number under treatment in the course of the year was three hundred and seventy-nine.

The number discharged during the year 1856, was one hundred and forty-six—eighty-two males and sixty-four females; leaving in the Hospital, on the 31st of December, 1856, two hundred and thirty-three patients—males, one hundred and thirty; females, one hundred and three.

It will be seen from this statement that the number of admissions has been less, and the number of discharges greater, than during the previous year. The opening of the Western Pennsylvania Hospital for the insane, during the spring, for the reception of patients, offered to the residents of the western and south-western parts of the State accommodations more convenient, and involving much less difficulty and expense in traveling, consequently a large number who would otherwise have been sent to this Hospital were taken to that. In addition to this, all the patients supported here by the county of Allegheny, were removed, towards the close of the year, to that institution.

Of those discharged the number of restored was	25

Died	32

The cause of death in sixteen cases was the exhaustion of chronic mania; in nine cases, dysentery; in one case, suicide; in two cases, inflammation of the lungs; in one case, chronic bronchitis; in two cases, erysipelas following violent inflammation of the throat; and in one case, acute mania.

Among the deaths marked as caused by chronic mania, was one which presented such striking features in a medical point of view, that a more extended notice appears to be demanded.

The patient was a female, aged about fifty-three years, a widow, who had been a resident of the Hospital nearly three years. Of her previous history, and the length of time her mind had been deranged, no definite information could ever be obtained. On the day of her admission, a peculiar bronzed appearance of the skin was noticed, and though frequently asked by her to explain the reason of "her becoming so much like a mulatto," I was unable to assign any cause satisfactory to my own mind. After her death, my attention was called to the cases described by Dr. Addison, of London, as disease of the supra-renal capsules, and her case corresponded in all essential respects with those described by him. The skin of the face and hands, particularly, was of a deep coppery brown; her body inclined to emaciation; her appetite very delicate; but the bodily functions were generally regular. Her constant complaint was her great weakness; but neither tonics nor malt liquors, which she was constantly craving, seemed to have any beneficial influence. She gradually failed without any other disease, and circumstances prevented a post-mortem examination, which would probably have thrown some light on the obscurity of the case.

During the early part of the year, our household enjoyed an unusual degree of health; but on the 1st of July an epidemic of dysentery, which prevailed extensively in the neighborhood, made its appearance, and continued for six weeks, when it disappeared almost as suddenly as it had appeared. Though so extensively as to include nearly one-third of our whole household, the mortality was comparatively small. Eighty-four patients, and fourteen officers and attendants were attacked, and nine patients and one attendant died; nearly all the patients who died having suffered from mental derangement for a long period. Many of the cases were severe and very protracted, and in several cases death was clearly to be attributed to our inability to keep up a systematic medication, from the obstinate refusal of the patient to take the means prescribed.

During the last quarter of the year, another epidemic extended from the community around us to our household, and presented many cases of an anomalous character.—Commencing as a violent inflammation of the fauces, in several cases it extended so as to include all the glands of the throat and mouth, with the tongue, so as entirely to prevent articulation, and even deglutition, but gradually subsiding in the course of a few days; in others, as the violence of the inflammation of the fauces abated, erysipelas of the face appeared, involving the whole head; and in others, again, the affection was confined entirely to the fauces, and was quite obstinate. During the same period, a disposition to the formation of large, very painful boils on every part of the body, very tedious in their course and in healing, prevailed very generally.

The causes of insanity, so far as they could be ascertained, are given in the following table:

In enumerating the causes of insanity, I cannot refrain mentioning one which is much more productive of insanity than would appear by reference to the tables generally given.

I allude to the practice of a solitary vice by the young of both sexes, which, as is too well known to those who are constantly brought in contact with its victims, prevails to an alarmingly fearful extent in the community. It is not probable that it is more prevalent at this time than in previous years, but the facts and the cases have been brought more distinctly under notice. Its extensive prevalence as an effect of insanity—and it is impossible to say to what extent it may have been the cause—every one connected with the management of hospitals has had too frequent occasion to deplore; but the same opportunity has not been offered them of raising a warning voice against the habit, before it has become confirmed, and its deleterious influence has been manifested. In yielding to this, as to all other bad habits, the individual cherishes the fond, but fatal delusion, that he will escape all the evil effects which are forcibly represented as following this practice; but there is no fact more certain, and verified by more convincing proofs, than that unless the habit is at once and finally abandoned, insanity or some serious disorder of the nervous system will follow. It may safely be affirmed, without fear of contradiction, that nothing undermines the nervous system more insidiously, but more certainly; and it is also painfully true, that in no class of cases is the prospect of restoration so unfavorable.

The reason of this is evident. The habit has become so confirmed by the time symptoms of insanity have appeared, that the individual seems unable to make any effort to break it off; added to which, is the fact that the controlling power of the mind has been so weakened, that the resolution and determination to pursue a correct course seem no longer to actuate the individual.

The social condition may be thus classed:

	Males.	Females.	Total.

A PENNSYLVANIA DUTCHMAN WHO WANTED TO BE HUNG.—An evening or two ago, a large slab-sided, robust looking Pennsylvania Dutchman, entered the restaurant of Mr. Archibald Barron, on Second street near Willow, on a begging expedition. There were about a dozen persons sitting around the place, and the stranger approaching them, addressed one of the party as follows:

"Me wants a feep for mins ped to sleep in?"

"Look here, old fellow," responded one of the men, "what kind of a Dutchman are you, a real Simon pure, or Pennsylvania?"

"I ish a Pennsylvania Dutchman, I comes from mine blase, where I lifs mit mine vife, de oder side of Susquehanna, where I lifs mit mine children too."

"Well then," said the proprietor, who can crack a joke as well as any body, "you ought to be hung. You fellows up in the country charge twice as much for butter, eggs and poultry as they are worth; now clear out or I'll hang you."

"You may hang me and pe tam, if you shoost do it now."

"Well, come along," said the proprietor, "and I'll give you a free passport to the other side of Jordan."

The crowd by this time were prepared to see a star engagement done up in a first class style, and the worthy landlord procured a chain, formerly used to fasten a black bear. He put one end through the ring on the other end of the chain and then placed the noose, thus formed, over the head and around the neck of the Dutchman.

Of course there was not the least intention of hanging the fellow, but merely to crack a joke. So interesting had the scene become by this time, that several persons indulging in the luxury of chicken salad and broiled oysters, served up in excellent style, for which the worthy host is so justly celebrated, dropped their knives and forks temporarily, in order to enjoy the sport. Dutchy was led to the rear part of the restaurant, and the loose end of the chain was fixed on a hook in the ceiling. After standing in this position a moment, he let himself fall, the chain tightened around his neck, and as the links grated through the ring, a sudden sharp crack was heard. "Heavens," exclaimed the landlord, "the fellow has broke his neck." "Take him down, take him down"—shouted several; but all seemed to have lost their presence of mind for the moment, and poor Dutchy was, to all appearances, in a fair way of making a transit from time to eternity, in a very expeditious style. There he was, his tongue hanging out, his limbs becoming rigid, and his pedal extremities twitching about. He was, however, relieved from his perilous position, but he appeared to be about half dead.

The landlord flew about on the wings of fright, got a large tumbler, filled it with the best brandy, applied the same as a lotion, but no sooner did the fumes affect the olfactory nerves of the apparently prostrate fellow, than he gave unmistakable signs of returning animation by taking a long breath. In a moment after he raised his hands, seized the tumbler, and bathed his insides with about two-thirds of its contents. His speech returned—"dat ish goot, dat ish nice; it makes mine pelly feels petter as goot," exclaimed he, as he arose to his feet without further help.

Of course the spectators were agreeably surprised, and none more so, or better pleased, than the distinguished landlord himself. The latter person remarked that for the moment he could see police officers, courts, juries, prison bars and gallows, staring him in the face. To use his own words, he thought he was a "goner." The best of the story is that the Tuetonic son of Pennsylvania was playing possum, to a very considerable extent, and remarked, that he would often come and be hung every time, provided he should be restored in the same manner. He then took his departure, leaving the crowd in the cellar to talk about the adventure of the evening.—Phila. Daily Argus.

THE HUNTINGDON GLOBE, A DEMOCRATIC FAMILY JOURNAL, DEVOTED TO LOCAL AND GENERAL NEWS, &C.

THE GLOBE.

Huntingdon, Wednesday, Feb. 18, 1857.

Line upon Line--Here and There a Little

☞ WITTY-CUR—Our girls' poodle dog.

☞ February 15th—A sunny day Sunday.

☞ Gabe, Jr., has "taken the water." We accepted his proposition, he is now silent.

☞ Come into a fortune and then your friends will discover in you qualities of the most superlative brilliancy, the existence of which, in your moments of most intoxicated vanity, you never suspected before.

☞ RUN OUT—The items department of our exchanges.

☞ If "distance lends enchantment to the view," and said "view" refuses to return it, has "distance" a legal cause of action, and is she entitled to recover? Will one of our legal friends, who has 'nothing else to do,' give an opinion?—for the fun of the thing.

WANT TO KNOW—When it became the fashion for a Blair county newspaper to repeatedly assail a private citizen?—Answer—Since ye era of ye dog-chubs.

☞ A man having published another as a liar, a scoundrel, and a polltroon, the latter complains that he does not spell poltroon correctly.

☞ FANNY FERN, speaking of matrimonial advertisements, and women generally who show an anxiety to change their situations, says:

"No—never let women be the wooers, save as the flowers woo, with their sweetness—save as the stars woo, with their brightness—save as the summer wind woos—silently unfolding the rose's heart."

Fanny is about right in her preaching, but we are a little dubious about her practice.

☞ TOUCHED IN THE RAW—The Altoona Tribune finds it hard to forget the editorial recreations of the "Iron Democrat." Although the Tribune "crabbed down" whilst the native author was in the chair, since he has ceased to edit any paper, it has pusillanimously heaped six columns of personal abuse upon that gentleman. Hope they feel easier.

☞ A NEW WRINKLE IN PRINTING.—The Hollidaysburg Register is now issued in italic—the font of roman being used for emphatic words. For particulars, see communications of "an old run-out man."

☞ SUITING THE ACTION TO THE WORD.—There is a controversy going on in the columns of the Hollidaysburg Register respecting the merits of the Forgemen's Aid Society.—Judging from the late articles of Messieurs A. W. Benedict and Max. Greene, their antagonist is now literally, what he never was before—"a run out man."

☞ After all that is written and published about the extravagance of ladies in dress, for that only is chargeable, there is more among men, with their late hours, fast horses, fine cigars, liquors and fast women. The extravagance is not all on one side, and a precise balance of the account would not bring the ladies in debt.

☞ "Gabriel, Jr." is said to have met a boy the other day upon the street: "Sonny," says he, "what is your opinion of soft crabs?" "That they are not the only soft things in the world," was the significant reply. That boy is bound for till rise!

☞ PROMOTED UP.—Seeing the "Angel Gabriel" has gone dead in a penitentiary, our Gabe is entitled to leave off the "Junior."

WENT UP ROCKET AND CAME DOWN STICK.—At the opening of the lecture season, the Register pompously announced that a committee of the Hollidaysburg Lyceum was in negotiation with Ralph Waldo Emerson, Dr. Chapin, George Washington Curtis, Dr. Bethune, Joseph R. Chandler, Horace Greeley, George Munday, and other eminent orators.—In conclusion, that learned jurist, the editor, said that Huntingdon ought also to establish a lecturing association.—But it would seem their own institution has not been heard from since the departure of Lucy Stone. Is it true that their negotiation with Bayard Taylor was broken off by his having gone to Lapland to avoid our hard winter?

☞ The advent of Mr. BEHR in our borough—the man who plays two tunes on the piano at the same time—has given a fresh impulse to the music movement, and the Professor is in great request, especially among the pupils of Mrs. HANEGAR. These pupils, by the way, are making rapid progress in the "divine art," and doing great credit to their accomplished and talented instructress.

☞ NOTHING NEW—A grinder of the poor contending for Equity, and signing his published articles Equitas. Assume a virtue, though you have it not.

☞ The canal, we are informed, is in a sad condition for an early opening. Reform is progressing crab-like in this neighborhood. A head to direct, and a little money, would make all right in a few weeks.

☞ FILLING UP—Our county jail. We have heard of numerous jail birds that ought to be caged.

☞ THE MARCH OF INTELLECT.—Altoona has its lecture association these times as well as Hollidaysburg. After twice postponing it, on account of the weather, the prestige of Dr. Junkin's name brought together an audience to hear the initial lecture—but so slim was the attendance, that the Tribune fears the course will break down, after beginning in the middle of the winter. Of course it will, unless the senior editor of that paper consents to repeat his "cat story."

☞ Longanecker, President of the Lancaster Bank in 1855, and Bachman, Cashier at the same time, have been arrested and are held to bail in the sum of $4000 on a charge of embezzling the funds of the bank.

☞ McKim, the murderer of Norcross, has not yet been arrested. $2,200 are now offered for his arrest.

"Woodman, spare those poles,
Touch not a single one,
Last fall they cheered our souls—
Just let 'em stand for fun."

☞ Woman is like ivy—the more you are ruined the closer she clings to you. A vile old bachelor adds: Ivy is like woman—the closer it clings to you the more you are ruined. Poor rule that don't work both ways. Knock down that bachelor!

☞ Witty-cur—

"More peevish, cross and splenetic
Than dog distract or monkey sick."

☞ It is said that Messrs. Tiffany & Co., of New York, sold, last week, a single diamond, to be worn in a ring, for $6,500 cash! It was the central stone of a $14,000 necklace, which has been exhibited for some time past at their establishment.

Only think of it! Six thousand five hundred dollars for a jewel, a bauble, to deck the finger of some rich man or woman. What extravagant folly; what wickedness. How many cheerless, downcast, sorrowing hearts would the cost of that ring, at this dreary season, make leap with joy!—It would save many from want, perhaps destruction. The purchaser of that ring will have much to answer for when the account is rendered of its owner's stewardship.

☞ It has often been remarked, that children will frequently ask questions, which even the wisest are puzzled to answer. "Mother," exclaimed Charley, "how big was I when you was a little girl?" Wasn't that a poser.

SENSIBLE.—It is getting to be the fashion in some quarters to enclose a gold dollar with marriage notices when sending them to the printer. The custom is a good one, and should prevail everywhere. The marriage fee to the preacher should always be accompanied with a dollar for the printer:

"Six dollars to printer and priest,
No sensible man should refuse;
Five dollars to render him blest,
And one to publish the news!"

☞ Arouse ye, warbling frogs, and sweetly sing,
The budding beauties of the new-born Spring!

NOT YET READY.—Wm. Brewster, for the investigation. Hope he is not trying to play the sneak. As we intend to be an applicant for re-appointment we want the report of the committee to forward with our application. Hurry up the investigation, Billy.

CORRESPONDENCE OF THE GLOBE.

Common School.

GREENE-VALE FARM (Broad Top), Feb. 9th, 1857.

Editor of the Globe: This dreary, drizzling weather drives one's thoughts indoor to busy themselves with occupations that cause us to forget the dim day without. Such rainy spells were the most comfortable of our schoolboy time. When there was no bright side to creation to be seen from the schoolhouse windows, the interior wore a cosy look by contrast, and books and slates were mentally voted not such bad things after all. So we of old Morris township used to feel, in that "lang syne" when Dudley Burnham swayed the imperial rod. That was before Thad. Stevens had carved out the Free School epoch, while the three r's (reading, 'riting and 'rithmetic) were taught us by subscription.

With the new system, many a new schoolhouse has grown out of the ground, and there are now few children of ten, within the borders of old Huntingdon, who have not learned at least to read. The young Dudleys, too, are better drilled in their profession; and in the vicinity from which this is written, Cassville Seminary is sending out graduates yearly, well prepared for their arduous, honorable calling.

Yet in all the hundred schools of interior Pennsylvania which I have had the honor of visiting during the past season, there is manifest room for improvement before they reach the New England standard. It may be humiliating to acknowledge this, but to know it is the first essential toward bringing about changes for the better. Few of our teachers are qualified to give instructions in vocal music, map-drawing is seldom taught, and in no school were cards distributed for drawing to charm away the restless hours of younger pupils.

In some districts, too, I came upon vestiges of ancient barbarism that might well have astonished an older traveler. The big boys of a certain village school in Blair county, that I wot of, still keep up the Christmas custom of "barring out"—and all for the sweet reward of a stick of candy. As might be inferred, they are blessed with a pedagogue to match the population. During the Christmas holidays of 1855, this said school being assembled inside of the house, while the master was detained by force of circumstances on the outside, said pedagogue, not being able to "hold himself," threw a stone as big as his head, at the aforementioned house, which went crashing through the window-sash, and grazing the heads of two little children, rolled on the floor amid the group of dismayed rebels. The same individual since, getting into a wrangle with his preacher in church meeting, upon being accused of peculation, flung a book (the bible) in the preacher's face. Yet, notwithstanding these and many similar displays of violent temper, this person is retained in his place as an instructor—and that without acquirements which fit him properly to take charge of a primary school. It is well known to the community in which he lives, that he commenced the study of English Grammar but little more than a year ago.—He had previously considered that branch a "toploftical" accomplishment. He is, however, paid high wages as "Principal," and a competent "Assistant" or two are employed, who hear all the higher classes recite. When assistance cannot be had, the "University" suspends—and, for obvious reasons, it has been found difficult to procure aids of the right kind. The chief employment of this worthy Principal is to whip, which he frequently does by classes, and he has been known to put more than a hundred pupils through the flint-mill in one day. The reason assigned to me by one of the Directors for keeping such a fellow employed was, that he and the schoolmaster were members of the same church, and therefore he felt bound to aid him. That Director deserves to be placed on a par with another, whom I discovered in Huntingdon county, who seriously inquired, whether William Penn was a Quaker?

These cases are mentioned without name or place, leaving those to wear the shoe whom it fits. Such directors and schoolmasters are to any community like self-righteousness—the more they have of them the worse off they are.

As a "silver lining to the cloud," Catharine township in Blair county deserves honorable mention. Two of the Board of Directors, alternately, visit each of their six schools once every week. The buildings are well lighted, ventilated, and entirely comfortable—one in particular which I remember is beautifully frescoed. And there is an association of parents and other friends of education, who meet at short intervals, to discuss the different modes of teaching, and to consider what measures may yet be taken to inspire the children with stronger love of knowledge. Thus nobly, like the "wise Bereans," do they reason together. That neighborhood, I am proud to add, is my native home. May the sunlight of yet brighter and broader intelligence rest upon the old valley in all coming years!

These few plain facts have been stated, Mr. Editor, in the hope of doing good. It is pleasant to point out objects worthy of praise. It is also painful to call public attention to shameful abuses of the school system—which can yet be corrected in no other way. We should regard the Common School as the very palladium of our country's hope—for it is that. And the hiss of merited scorn should follow those official gentlemen who, in some places, are contributing to its downfall.

With respect, yours,
MAX. GREENE.

P. S.—Those who reason from cause to effect may be interested to learn that a delegation of upwards of eighty persons were in attendance at the late session of the Blair county Court, from the single school district in which they keep the savage master.

Shocking Tragedy in New Orleans.

Last evening, a female with a quick step and a flushed face, might be seen moving hurriedly along Calliope street, and when near Tehoupitoulas, she turned into a house, which, in a moment after, was the scene of a most fearful tragedy. The woman was Mrs. Mary Cull, and the house she entered was the temporary abode of her husband and her husband's alleged paramour, one Margaret Kelly. As Mrs. Cull entered the house, and attempted to pass into a rear room, in quest of her husband, Margaret Kelly sprang before her, and grasped her by the throat, and as she did so, Mrs. Cull drew a knife, and plunged it into her heart, thereby killing her on the spot. Thereupon a citizen, who was attracted to the spot by the noise of the occurrence, entered, and seeing Mrs. Cull standing over the prostrate body of her victim, took her into custody, and conveyed her to the First District Lockup. Subsequently, a woman named Margaret Clark was arrested as an accessory to the murder, but in what manner she was accessory we have not heard. We may perhaps obtain further facts when the Coroner's inquest is completed.

According to Mrs. Cull's statement, she and her husband resided at St. Louis, and he, being a brick-layer, came to this city about three or four months ago in search of employment. While here, he became acquainted with Margaret Kelly, and at length it was rumored that an improper intimacy existed between them. Mrs. C. then pursued her husband to the city, and finding him repentant, she forgave him for his past transgressions, and they went to live in a house on Durades street.

Recently the husband made a trip on a boat, and on his return he went to his wife's residence, and stopped with her one night. The next day he left her, and she learned that he had renewed his intimacy with Margaret Kelly. After waiting two days for his return, the enraged wife went in pursuit of her husband, and the bloody issue thereof we have already stated. The prisoner does not appear in the least to regret the bloody business in which she has been engaged.

QUARREL BETWEEN THE KANSAS AID COMMITTEES.—There is a highly interesting quarrel going on between the National and State Central Kansas Aid Committee, concerning the management of the funds contributed for the relief of Kansas. Irregularity, bad faith, incompetency and private corruption form the staple of the charges on both sides, and if we are to believe half that is said, the greatest service that can be done for Kansas, is to relieve her from further intermeddling by these self-constituted committees.

☞ The Mormon country and the Mormon manners do not seem to please all who emigrate to that territory. An Englishman publishes in the London papers, his six years' experience among the Saints. He left lest its polluting principles should contaminate his own family, and expresses gratefulness at his escape from the degraded position to which he had reduced himself and them.

THE BOOK OF THE AGE.—"'TIS MUCH TO SAY, YET TRUTH TO SAY IT."—RECOLLECTIONS OF A LIFETIME, OR MEN AND THINGS I HAVE SEEN IN EUROPE AND AMERICA,

By S. G. GOODRICH, the veritable "Peter Parley," author of "The History of all Nations," &c., &c. In two volumes, 150 pp. large 12mo. 25 engravings, including an accurate Steel Portrait of the Author. Price, Black or Scarlet Cloth, $300; Scarlet cloth, gilt edges, $4; Half calf, marble edges, $5; Gilt Edges, $7.

This work embraces the prominent public events of the last half century, both at home and abroad; a complete autobiography of the author—his early days, education, and literary career; and an amount of original, curious, and valuable personal incident, anecdote and description, seldom, if ever, met with in a single work. It is the author's life-long work, and nothing superior if equal to it in blended amusement and instruction, has ever been published. Mr. Goodrich is the author and editor of 170 volumes, of which seven millions of copies have been sold! and this the great work of his life time, embodies the condensed substance of his ample literary and practical experience; the war with England in 1812-14, in which Mr. Goodrich was a private soldier; the Hartford Convention, whose operations took place under his immediate observation, and with most of the members of which he was personally acquainted. Embracing curious and interesting details respecting old Jeffersonian Democracy, Old Federalism, and Connecticut Blue Lights; curious and marvellous events connected with the rise and progress of religious sects in the United States; with descriptions of the French Revolution of 1830, and Louis Napoleon's Coup d'Etat, both of which the author witnessed. Also, a full account of the 'Peter Parley's Tales,' of which four millions have been sold.

In the course of the work will be found pen and ink portraits of over Two Hundred celebrated persons—Presidents, Vice-Presidents, Kings, Queens, Emperors, Soldiers, Poets, Wits, Enthusiasts, Physicians, Lawyers, Politicians, Diplomatists, &c.—all described from personal acquaintance or observation. ENCYCLOPEDIA OF ANIMATED NATURE.—A BOOK THAT IS REALLY ALL LIFE.—EVERY FAMILY SHOULD HAVE IT.—LIVING NATURE IN ALL ITS FORMS.

The only book of its kind ever published, which gives Pictorial Representations and Popular Descriptions of the History, Habits and modes of life of all the classes of living beings on the earth, in the ocean and in the air. Uniform retail price,

In One Quarto Volume 1350 Illustrations, Muslin Gilt Back and Center, $3,00. The same—Marble Edge, Embossed Morocco, Gilt Back and Center, $3,00. The same—Extra Red Turkey Morocco, Gilt Edges and Full Gilt Sides, $5,00.

Books upon almost every other subject have been circulated among the people, except those relating to the very interesting and important one of Natural History. The books which have heretofore been published on this subject, have been adapted to mere children, or to those who made it a thorough study. Hence, very few of the millions of readers in this country have, within their reach, anything satisfactory upon this subject. This indicates a great and an obvious want, as no subject is more intensely interesting, and none more improving, than that of the living beings that people the globe. This want we are confident we fully meet, in the work we here offer to the public.

NO LIBRARY IS COMPETE WITHOUT IT.—TESTIMONY OF SIXTEEN THOUSAND PURCHASERS.—MAGNIFICENT WORK OF HISTORY!—A WHOLE LIBRARY IN ITSELF!—COST $11,000—70 MAPS—700 ENGRAVINGS.—A HISTORY OF ALL NATIONS.

From the earliest period to the present time, the history of every nation, ancient and modern, being separately given. By S. G. GOODRICH, author of several works of History, 'Peter Parley's Tales,' &c.

It is believed that the above work will be very acceptable to the American public. It is the result of years of toil and labor, assisted in his researches by several scholars of known ability, and has been got up at a great expense by the proprietors. No pains have been spared in the execution of the Illustrations and Maps, which are prepared expressly for this work. Indeed, all the other historical writing of Mr. Goodrich, sink into insignificance, when compared to this, the result of his riper and maturer years. It is admitted that one hundred dollars could not purchase the same matter in any other shape, and the publishers confidently expect, in consideration of the great literary value of the work, the large sum expended in preparing the plates, and the exceedingly moderate price at which it is offered, that it will be favorably received by every lover of good books. Many of our first scholars, divines and gentlemen, who have examined the work, have given it their unqualified approbation and commendation, which it richly deserves.

UNIFORM RETAIL PRICES.

Many of our Agents having been told when soliciting subscribers, that this work would soon be sold in Bookstores, and at a reduced price, we hereby give notice, as Sole Publishers of it, it will not be sold in Bookstores at any price, and will be offered by our canvassing Agents only, who have the sole right of sale in their respective districts, except that where we have not appointed an agent, WE will send copies by mail, postage pre-paid, to any part of the United States, upon receipt of the retail price.

N. B.—The one volume copies, weighing over four pounds, cannot be sent through the mail, but the two volume copies can be mailed as two books.

L. SCOTT & CO., NEW YORK, continue to publish the following leading British Periodicals, viz:

1. THE LONDON QUARTERLY (Conservative).
2. THE EDINBURG REVIEW (Whig).
3. THE NORTH BRITISH REVIEW (Free Church).
4. THE WESTMINSTER REVIEW (Liberal).
5. BLACKWOOD'S EDINBURG MAGAZINE (Tory).

These Periodicals ably represent the three great political parties of Great Britain—Whig, Tory, and Radical—but politics forms only one feature of their character. As Organs of the most profound writers on Science, Literature, Morality, and Religion, they stand, as they ever have stood, unrivalled in the world of letters, being considered indispensable to the scholar and the professional man, while to the intelligent reader of every class they furnish a more correct and satisfactory record of the current literature of the day, throughout the world, than can be possibly obtained from any other source.

EARLY COPIES.—The receipt of Advance Sheets from the British publishers gives additional value to these Reprints, especially during the present exciting state of European affairs, inasmuch as they can now be placed in the hands of subscribers about as soon as the original editions.

TERMS.

For Blackwood and the four Reviews	10 "

Payments to be made in all cases in advance. Money current in the State where issued will be received at par.

CLUBBING.—A discount of twenty-five per cent. from the above prices will be allowed to Clubs ordering four or more copies of Blackwood, or of one Review, will be sent to one address for $9; four copies of the four Reviews and Blackwood for $30; and so on.

POSTAGE.—In all the principal Cities and Towns, these works will be delivered, free of postage. When sent by mail, the postage to any part of the United States will be but twenty-four cents a year for Blackwood, and but fourteen cents a year for each of the Reviews.

N. B. The price in Great Britain of the five Periodicals above named is about $31 per annum.

THE FARMER'S GUIDE

TO SCIENTIFIC AND PRACTICAL AGRICULTURE.

By HENRY STEPHENS, F. R. S., of Edinburg, and the late J. P. NORTON, Professor of Scientific Agriculture in Yale College, New Haven. 2 vols. Royal Octavo. 1600 pages, and numerous Wood and Steel Engravings.

This is, confessedly, the most complete work on Agriculture ever published, and in order to give it a wider circulation the publishers have resolved to reduce the price to FIVE DOLLARS FOR THE TWO VOLUMES!

When sent by mail (post paid) to California and Oregon the price will be $7. To every other part of the Union and to Canada (post paid), $6.

A NEW BOOK FOR AGENTS.—THE LIFE and TIMES of ALEXANDER HAMILTON;

by Samuel M. Smucker, A. M., author of the Life and Reign of Nicholas I, of Russia, &c., &c.

This is the only complete and reliable biography of this GREAT MAN. He was the intimate personal FRIEND OF WASHINGTON, and by many considered his equal.

This work includes a history of the times and men of the Revolution, and many incidents not heretofore given in history. It has all the charms of romance, although prepared from the most reliable and authentic sources, and should be in the hands of every American who reveres the great and good men of our Revolution. A sketch of BURR is also given, and an account of his miserable end.

Agents wanted in every part of the United States, for this and other valuable works, to whom the largest commissions will be paid. Copies sent by mail, on receipt of the price, $1. J. W. BRADLEY, Publisher, WINDOW SASH.—J. & W. Saxton have now on hand different kinds of Window Sash, and at much lower prices than can be made by hand.

They will also be able to have doors made to order at the shortest notice, as well as Shutters, Blinds, and everything necessary for building purposes.

Huntingdon, December 17, 1856.

TREMENDOUS EXCITEMENT!—ANOTHER BANK CLOSED!

The well known establishment of Messrs. LOVE & McDIVITT, on Market street, Huntingdon, was yesterday compelled to close its doors on account of the tremendous rush of customers, occasioned by the arrival in port of the boat "Broad Top" from the East, having on board, the most extensive assortment of fresh Groceries, Confectionaries, &c., &c., &c., ever offered for sale in this place. To-day, however, they are happy to be able to announce to their numerous friends and patrons—to the public generally—and "the rest of mankind," that they are again open, and prepared to dispose of their entire stock, on the most reasonable terms, for cash or country produce—consisting of the following, viz: Coffee, Sugar, Teas, Molasses, Fish, Salt, Cheese, Crackers, Cakes, Fruit, Confectionaries, Hams, Shoulders, &c., Tobacco of the best quality and Segars of every grade. Candles, Oils, Fluids, Camphene, &c. Nuts of every description, Figs, Raisins, &c. In short, every thing usually found in an establishment of this kind.

As the terms will be strictly CASH, or country produce in exchange for goods, their stock will be disposed of at the LOWEST FIGURES.

Thankful for past favors, they would still solicit a share of public patronage. All are invited to call and examine for themselves, as no pains will be spared in order to accommodate.

IMPORTANT TO DAGUERREOTYPISTS, MARBLE DEALERS AND OTHERS. MONUMENTAL DAGUERREOTYPE CASES.

A method has long been sought for, to insert in a durable manner, Daguerreotype Likenesses to Head Stones and Monuments.—I have been manufacturing these cases for the last two years, and can warrant them to secure the picture for a long number of years.

The outside case is made of Parian Marble, and the box which encloses the picture and keeps it in a state of great preservation for a long number of years, is made of brass, —a screw box. It makes a very neat job on a Head Stone or Monument. They are used in Greenwood Cemetery, Mount Auburn, Laurel Hill, and many other Cemeteries in the United States.

A liberal discount made to Marble Dealers and Daguerreotypists. Price from $2.25 each to $9.50. A circular of engravings will be sent to any address, free, with price list. Address, A. L. BALDWIN,

Agent of Mansoleum Dag. Co., 335 Broadway, New York.

December 24, 1856.

TO THE PUBLIC.—The undersigned informs his friends and the public generally, that he has leased the ORLANDO HOUSE, in the borough of Huntingdon, and is now prepared to accommodate with boarding and lodging all who may favor him with a call. His Bar is furnished with the best liquors.

LIVERY STABLE.—He has also provided himself with a good stock of Horses, Carriages, &c., for the accommodation of the public, at reasonable charges.

WM. WILLIAMS.

Huntingdon, April 7, 1856.

MONEY, MONEY, MONEY.—Why be without Money? when it is just as easy for any one to be around with a pocket full as not, if they only think so. I have got a new article, from which from five to twenty dollars a day can be made, either by male or female. It is highly respectable business, and an article which is wanted in every family in the United States. Enclose me two dollars by mail, and I will forward by return mail a Circular, with full instructions in the art. The business is very easy. Try it, if you are out of employment, and you will never regret it; for it will be better for you to pay the above sum, and insure a good business, than to pay twenty-five cents for a spurious advertisement. This is no humbug. Try it! Try it! Try it! Address your letters to DWIGHT MONROE, New York.

Dec. 24, 1856-3m.

I sent one of my Circulars to an Editor in Georgia, and he gave me a notice in his paper like the following:

"Mr. Monroe sent me one of his Circulars, and I will just say to my readers that whoever of you are out of employment that Mr. Monroe's business is a good business, and money can be made out of it by any one who engages in it, for it is no humbug."

NEW WATCH AND JEWELRY STORE.—JOHN FRISCH respectfully informs the citizens of Huntingdon county, that he has just opened a new store on Hill street, opposite Straus' Store, Huntingdon, for the sale of GOLD and SILVER WATCHES, JEWELRY, &c.

His stock is entirely new and of the best quality, and will be disposed of at fair prices.

The public generally are requested to call and examine for themselves.

Repairing of Watches, Clocks, and Jewelry, done in the best manner on short notice. JOHN FRISCH.

Huntingdon, Oct. 1, 1856.

TO COUNTRY DEALERS. AUGUST BRICKER, BOOT MAKER, No. 94 North Fourth street, third Boot Store below Race, Philadelphia, Wholesale and Retail dealer, will give full satisfaction to all who may patronise him. Country dealers, and persons wishing a good article, are invited to call.

GRINDSTONES with friction rollers, Whetstones, Oil Stones, also Knives and Forks, Spoons, Scissors, &c., decidedly the best assortment in the county. Porcelain, Tinned and Plain Boilers, Stewing, Frying and Baking Pans, for sale at prices which make it the interest of purchasers to call at the Hardware Store of JAS. A. BROWN & CO.

LIGHTNING RODS! Armitage's PATENT OF SUPERIOR ELECTRIC MAGNET LIGHTNING RODS, it is now admitted on all hands, that every building to be secure from the destructive influences of lightning should be provided with a good conductor.

The large number of worthless rods that are put up makes it necessary for purchasers to examine the merits of the different rods offered for sale.

The public need but to examine Armitage's rods to be convinced that they are constructed upon not only the best, but the only safe principle of any rod in use.

Over 6000 of these rods have already been put up without the loss of a dollar's worth of property by lightning in any building to which they have been attached, which is the best evidence that they are perfectly secure. I have a few on hand which I will sell for less than half of the retail price asked by Armitage, to close out my stock. Call soon at Colon's Book Store, Huntingdon, Pa., where they can be had of WM. COLON.

Huntingdon, July 16, 1856.
